

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

I find this use of the public airwaves to be an egregious violation of FCC rules and I know I won't stand for it. I'll be calling my local Sinclair station and expressing my discontent. I'll also never be watching their station again, if they do show this program.

I'd like the FCC to note that this type of violation erodes the public trust that we're getting fair and accurate news. In fact, a violation like this will go a long way in destroying the trust that the public puts in the media. Please stop Sinclair Broadcasting from ruining our system of informing the public. Thank you.
